

Season 24/25 - Newsletter 32

Biggest result/win of the round was The Bradley Lowery Foundation, thanks to the efforts and generosity of all that made it to Belushi's, and those that didn't but joined in the fund raising events anyway.

With the help of Saved By The Belle's better half, Chani will convert the cash we've collected today into £792.79, and bring the total we've raised since Summer 2022 to £6,588.50.

On the football side, Bankers a plenty scoring points this time, there were 4 Guaranteed on the Newcastle game, 2 on the Rangers game and 1 on Liverpool. There were also 18 on Spurs!!!!

There were TWO negative scores this round, but we averaged 19.22.

GraniteCity Fox had TWO Guaranteed bankers, which helped them build their total of 73.09, and not only take the round, but also win the Sprint Cash Prize.

Kanu Feel It we're a wrong Banker away from challenging the leader, but also picked up the Newcastle banker

Tumbledwyer in third place, also had Newcastle, and avoided any wrong bankers to score their 42 points

There was no change in top spot, The Grooneys staying out in front

Behind them though there was lots of movement. 58 Years Of Hurt are now second, Wigstown Rovers have moved up 3 places to 4th, and 2 T'Wire climb 4 places back up to 5th.

The Full table is, as always, on the website.

It was tight, but by the smallest of margins Drop It Like It's Slot survived to doom them both.

Red Dogs	253.44

Racing Todabogs	249.72
GraniteCity Fox	248.67

So tight at the top of The Picks this round as well.

Flaming Norah took first place by less than a point over Red Dogs, who were just a couple of points above Denied By The WoodWork.

Lard Lovers XI remain on the top.

But it's another good round for the reigning Picks Champ, as Racing Todabogs close the gap more on the leader.

Another round of cup games in the Picks in Midweek will add further points, and we will also have some dropping out of the competition.

I've extended the Transfer Window this weekend to Friday as Player points become critical.
